

JEMUN VIDEO JOURNALIST

Being a JEMUN Video Journalist is a popular and rewarding JEMUN role. After applying online and paying your conference fee, the JEMUN organizing committee will send you a letter of invitation which will include the assigned meeting room (agenda) you'll be covering, the name and contact information of your journalist partner, and a list of events you'll be in charge of reporting on during the conference. Multicultural pairs comprised of 1 Japanese student and 1 international student will collaborate, explore, engage and finally create video broadcasts together. All of the video broadcasts will then be published on the JEMUN Journalism page as well as the JEMUN Facebook and Twitter pages for people to enjoy.

JEMUN PODCAST JOURNALIST

Being a JEMUN Podcast Journalist is an incredible learning opportunity. Multicultural pairs comprised of 1 Japanese student and 1 international student will collaborate, explore, engage and finally create podcasts together. All of these podcasts will then be published on the JEMUN website page as well as the JEMUN Facebook and Twitter pages for people to enjoy. After applying online and paying your conference fee, the JEMUN organizing committee will send you a letter of invitation which will include the assigned meeting room (agenda) you'll be covering, the name and contact information of your journalist partner, and a list of events you'll be in charge of reporting on during the conference.

JEMUN NEWSPAPER JOURNALIST

Being a JEMUN Newspaper Journalist is an incredible learning experience. Multicultural pairs comprised of 1 Japanese student and 1 international student will collaborate, explore, engage and publish their articles to the JEMUN Facebook page and website for people to enjoy and comment on. After applying online and paying your conference fee, the JEMUN organizing committee will send you a letter of invitation which will include the assigned meeting room (agenda) you'll be covering, the name and contact information of your journalist partner, and a list of conference events you'll be in charge of reporting on during the conference.

JEMUN EDITORIAL CARTOONIST

Being a JEMUN Editorial Cartoonist is a unique opportunity for aspiring artists to practice their cartooning skills, communicate in English, and learn from other participants. All of the cartoons will be published on the JEMUN Journalism page as well as the JEMUN Facebook and Twitter pages for people to enjoy. After applying online and paying your conference fee, the JEMUN organizing committee will send you a letter of invitation which will include the assigned meeting room (agenda) you'll be covering.

JEMUN PHOTOJOURNALIST

Being a JEMUN Photojournalist is a unique opportunity for aspiring photographers to practice their photography skills, communicate in English, and learn from other participants. After applying online and paying your conference fee, the JEMUN organizing committee will send you a letter of invitation which will include a pre-conference assignment and the assigned meeting rooms (agenda) you'll be covering. The photos will be published on the JEMUN Journalism page as well as the JEMUN Facebook and Twitter pages for people to enjoy.

JEMUN VIDEOGRAPHER

Are you passionate about making videos, communicating in English, and learning from other people. If so, being a JEMUN videographer is a perfect role for you. The JEMUN videographers will be responsible for making a video summary for each day of the conference and a video compilation of all the conference highlights to be played at the closing ceremony. After applying online and paying your conference fee, the JEMUN organizing committee will send you a letter of invitation which will include a pre-conference assignment and more detail about the JEMUN Videographer role. The videos will be published on the JEMUN Journalism page as well as the JEMUN Facebook and Twitter pages for people to enjoy.

JEMUN SOCIAL MEDIA JOURNALIST

There is no doubt that social media is playing a big part in shaping our news, so why not practice at JEMUN! JEMUN Social Media Journalists will use a number of commonly used social media platforms to inform the online audience about what is happening at the JEMUN conference. After applying online and paying your conference fee, the JEMUN organizing committee will send you a letter of invitation which will include a pre-conference assignment and more detail about the JEMUN Social Media Journalist role.

JEMUN MAGAZINE JOURNALIST

Four JEMUN Magazine Journalists will work together to publish an interactive JEMUN magazine using a software called JOOMAG.